ST. PETER'S NET JANUARY 2025

Beloved in the Lord:

Much of the work I do as your pastor happens out of the public eye. What you see on Sunday morning and Monday night is the result of many hours of prayer and preparation. As we begin a new calendar year, I'd like to use my newsletter article as a way to show you what I do outside of what you see to prepare for what you see and hear each week. This month, in cooperation with Kantor Zieroth's article on how he selects handbells and choir music, I'll write about how Vicar, Kantor, and I select the hymns we sing each weekend.

Contrary to what you may think, we don't pick our favorite hymns each week. We pick hymns that fit the Bible readings or that fit a unified theme within the Bible readings. We also don't randomly pick hymn numbers out of a hat. Lots of thought and discussion go into the selection of hymns. We also don't receive a pre-selected list of hymns from Synod headquarters. We do, however, have resources that help us select hymns.

Kantor keeps track of what hymns were sung in years past on that particular Sunday of the church year. He tells us what hymns haven't been sung in a while and we take that into consideration. We also take into consideration what is "singable" by our congregation. Some hymns may fit well with the readings, but you might not have ever sung the hymn. Sometimes we'll sing a hymn to see whether you are able to learn it. Sometimes you tell us when we pick something not easy to sing...and we certainly hear you when you tell us what is not "singable"!

Now and then you'll hear Kantor add an extra hymn or two during Communion distribution. We sometimes select a couple of hymns in reserve for these occasions. One Sunday during the Advent season I mentioned a particular hymn in the sermon that was not selected for that Sunday. We had time for an extra hymn during Communion distribution and Kantor called out that number! What a blessing for our congregation to have such a conscientious Kantor!

Another helpful way we learn what hymns you like to sing is when we do "hymns by request Sunday". Kantor keeps those slips of paper and notes the numbers you choose. This helps us select hymns that you know, especially during the long Trinity season each summer. Kantor sometimes uses that information when calling out extra hymns during Communion distribution.

Martin Luther's thinking about Scripture was, in German, "Was treibet Christum", in English, "What promotes Christ."That's a good way to summarize our thinking about picking hymns for worship. The hymns we sing each week promote Christ. So if we pick a hymn you consider a dud, we might not select it again or we might wait a few years and try it again. Above all, make a joyful noise unto the Lord with singing! Even if you can't carry a tune in a bucket, your voice is heard by our heavenly Father and it sounds like a sacrifice of praise to Him!

Your partner in the Gospel,
Pastor Juhl

P.S.: On behalf of my family, thank you for the kind expressions of love you gave us during the Christmas season. We love you, too!

Music Ministry

Behind the scenes of a Church Cantor:
Choir Music selection edition

Pastor explained in his article about all the excitement that happens in the office area when it gets to be service planning day. You may be shocked at the amount of discussion that goes into a seemingly simple process.

But what about the other music that gets scheduled for the services? Why do the choirs sing what they do? Why do the bells play what they play? Many decisions are thought through before being made in order for a piece of music to make the cut and be included in any given weekend's service.

To start, remember that written music comes from someone. That someone goes through the composition process and figures out the parts for each piece. They usually submit this music to a publisher. This publisher will, every year, pick the top submissions. They then go through copyright processes and printing, then marketing. Fall and Christmas materials land on my desk from 5-10 companies every May. Spring and Easter materials arrive every October/November. Everybody wants to sell as much new music as possible.

Our synod's publisher, Concordia Publishing House, has, at the time of this writing, at least 2000 choral pieces available. These come in various voicings and instrumentations. There are 20 more publishers that often or sporadically send mailings, and they all have maybe less offerings, sometimes many times more offerings. On top of all the new, there is the library in the balcony to choose from, as well.

To even begin deciding, I must first know what dates the choir is singing. A new full schedule of dates for all choirs must be made in July. Having the specific dates, I can now look at each date and figure out what the lectionary will be for that day. The Holidays don't change readings, but everything else is dependent on its relation to either Christmas or Easter. As a result, each Sunday varies with its readings from year to year.

Choir can sing a number of different ways. What one most expects, of course, is the anthem. But this is not the primary job of the choir. Their primary job is to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ as found in the Word of God. This is why Scripture is at the heart of everything in the Divine Service, and, CPH has blessedly added notations everywhere possible for you to see where every part originates. There are other helpful ways a choir can sing. 1. Any of the Propers (Psalm, Introit, Gradual, Verse, and in rare but fun cases, the actual readings). 2. Any part of the liturgy. 3. Hymns. 3a. Teaching a new hymn. 3b. Taking internal stanzas and ornamenting the text in a fanciful or different way. 3c. Adding descants.

So, we have a date. We have the readings. To make it worth singing, we then look for at least two and up to five pieces of music for the day. We look for music that best fits the texts of the day. Does it sound good? Is it learnable and then singable by the experience of size of the group? Does it sound good to the listener and is the text understandable? Sometimes, music is found for this! Sometimes, nothing is yet available. So then we move to hymnody and ask the same questions there for any music found there. If our schedule isn't full, then we move on to anthems. The same questions are asked. This usually has the added question, "Is the text theologically sound?" Many writers do not have a Lutheran understanding of Scripture. Some texts can be ecumenical, but many go against the Scriptures and the Confessions. These maybe sound lovely, a bad text will cause it to be left out.

If, after all of this, insufficient music is found, then sometimes I have to write something. This does happen. You may have noticed in the last couple years that the Verse with the Alleluias has been sung in select liturgies. I have been taking the Verse and setting it to hymn tunes being sung that day. These can be solos or adapted to choir.

With the internet, there are now many new places to find new-to-us music. Many composers are putting things out for free use. I am always on the lookout for music that fits our services!

Now with the schedule complete, it must be put in a way that the choir understands what they are doing. This includes the fun parts of paperwork: collecting the music, handing it out, making appropriate copies, and writing the schedule to include as much information as possible. There you have it. You've just spent many hours making a choir schedule for the year!

In His service,
Cantor Geremy Zieroth

To all my friends at St Peter's,
Hello and Merry Christmas!

My first year of seminary is drawing close to the halfway mark. It has been a wonderful experience so far, and I look forward to the next 3 1/2 years. I've been busier than I've ever been in my life, but I've never done anything more fulfilling. The classes are fun, but the opportunities outside of school have been the ones that stayed with me most. I've been privileged to read the Scriptures during service in my field work, and to lead the prayer of the church. Over fall break, I was able to visit Detroit to take part in urban ministry. These experiences have taught me the need for and gravity of the pastoral office, and although I can feel the weight of the responsibility, I also feel blessed to have been called to be here.

Yours in Christ,
Brad Larson

Grace, mercy, and peace to you from our Theological Seminary in Fort Wayne, Indiana!

I am now three weeks into the winter quarter of my last academic year. This means that I already have an arm, leg, and part of my head through the door out of the seminary, and whether I like it or not, my professors are getting ready to push me the rest of the way out and into the real world! It's humbling to think that in only a few months, I'll receive a divine call and will be given my own flock to tend. At this point, I've officially entered the "Great Period of Silence," as we students like to call it. A few weeks ago, I sat down in the office of one of my professors here at the seminary. In our meeting, he asked me all sorts of questions concerning the type of parish that I would like to serve: "Where in the country would you like to live? What size of a congregation would you like to serve? Would you prefer to be a sole pastor or to work with a staff?" And so on… It was then, when I stepped out of his office that I entered the "great Period of Silence." At this point, students don't have any follow-up meetings to discuss their preferences. On occasion, students will be asked out of the blue to attend an interview with a calling congregation, but for the most part things tend to remain quiet until Call Day in late April. Of course, I have an itch to get out into the "real world" and begin serving God's people, but there is no rushing the process. I have to wait like each of my peers.

As I wait, I am reminded of the Church's own waiting. In the season of Advent, we wait for Christmas day when our Lord and Savior came to us in human flesh. As a Church, we continue to wait for that same Savior's return, when He will bring us to the Father. Another year passes, a new year begins, and the Church continues to wait. Waiting is not always easy, but the time of waiting shall soon end. God is faithful; He will come again.

Christ's richest blessings to you in this new year as we look forward to that glorious day.

SEMINARY NEWS

From Seminarian Michael Hendrickson:

I am relieved that Advent is over. I've been preaching all the Advent midweek services while covering chapel for the school. Three different sermons, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday for three weeks. I also did pulpit supply in Galveston last Sunday. That was my first opportunity to preach with a cold. You can't call in sick with this job. I've preached 30 times now half way through vicarage. It's good experience.

It seems like vicarages with schools could be considered their own category entirely. My supervisor Pastor Murray just returned from synod business. He's been gone since September. I've been doing double duty for months. I look forward to some normalcy until he retires in February. Then I have to preach more during the vacancy.

My normal week:
Teach 7th grade Catechism Mon-Thur.
Two Tuesday Bible Studies
Tuesday Chapel
Lead Wednesday morning faculty devotion.
Thursday Chapel
Saturday Mens Bible study
Preach or assist on Sundays

Additional duties:
Three midweek Advent services
Covered a Seasonal Wednesday Bible study that ended before Advent, 6x weeks
Covered Sunday Bible study and Adult Instruction when pastors are gone
Pulpit Supply for St. John's Galveston

Classes are out for two weeks. I get some time to relax. I'm just assisting with the Christmas services. I preach this Sunday and New Year's Eve. The members of Memorial have been taking good care of me. I had three Thanksgiving dinners last month. Two Christmas dinners this week.

Please keep me in your prayers as I continue serving in full capacity. I'm thankful for the chance to be doing so much. It's great experience for the Ministry.

Merry Christmas!

As 2024 comes to an end, we reflect on the past year with gratitude. Our center is at full capacity, we have a wonderful team of dedicated staff members and we are blessed with supportive center families, congregation members and dedicated Church leaders to guide us forward. Thanks be to God and I personally thank each and everyone of you for your part in our center.

We look to the future with much anticipation as we continue to learn and grow with this wonderful group of children. We will enjoy many new topics of learning this winter and will increase the exposure to numbers and letters for the end of the school year. Pastor and Vicar will continue to share "Jesus pictures" and stories twice a week as teachers present bible stories as part of the class curriculum. This month we will explore ice and snowflakes, build snowmen (with many different materials), learn about the Arctic circles and the many different kinds of animals and enjoy some cozy days reading and creating books.

Watch for more information on our special "Parents Night Off" event, where community families can bring their kids to school and enjoy a Friday night with friends eating pizza, watching a movie and playing games. Spread the information to friends and family members. Registration forms will be available in the back of the church, please register by January 24.

Have a Blessed Christmas Season spending time with those you love and remember the greatest gift of all, God's only Son Jesus, sent to us for our Salvation!

COUNCIL MINUTES December 10, 2024

The December 10, 2024 meeting of the St. Peter's Lutheran Church council meeting was called to order by President Cameron Gramse at 6:32pm. This meeting was held in the conference room. Pastor Juhl presented the opening devotion from Isaiah chapter 40. Someone has to prepare the way of the Lord. John the Baptist does this. John's preaching likens John the Baptist to a "bulldozer" being run in our lives to prepare us for Jesus.

Agenda was presented. Mike Pertzborn made a motion to accept as presented. Meg Hanson second, carried.

Secretary's minutes were read. Joey Pascavis moved to approve the minutes, Alex Rehlinger second, carried.

Financial Secretary's report was given by Joey Pascavis. November giving was at 118% of the projected need. That put us at the 90.4% of our yearly need. We are currently sitting at 130% of our mission pledge. Special Purpose funds are still being supported by generous donations to the window and Vicar funds. Paul Yamriska moved approval of the report, Mike Pertzborn second, motion carried.

Treasurer's report was given by Meg Hanson. The checkbook balance as of today is $8,220.70, note that this is before any payroll funds have been distributed this month. The 2025 budget numbers have been assembled and are being evaluated. Paul Yamriska moved to approve the Treasurer report, Charlotte Reddeman second, carried.

The Board of Elder's report was given by Alex Rehlinger. Services are going well and in the two services since beginning the new process for the offering plates it has been well received. We wrapped up our organ concert series for 2024 on December 8th. Thank you to the CWC for providing treats and drinks afterwards and to Alex Rehlinger for his help with the audio and video. The 2025 schedule of concerts has been finalized. Calvary Lutheran Chapel luncheon was a success once again and Vicar Bliss was able to attend and help out. Military Care Committee sent Veteran's Day cards to all of our known veterans. There were no updates from Oakwood Community or the Endowment Committee. Cantor's report: The organ concert on December 8th was a fun one with all the Christmas music. All the choirs are performing extra this month due to the holiday. The handbell choir will be ringing Christmas music for the American Red Cross kettle campaign at Festival Foods in Portage on December 21st. Practices for Christmas programs are underway with all the Sunday School children.

The Board of Trustee's Report was presented by Greg Frank and Steve Paskey. The roofs have been completed. Heat tapes are installed. The inside window work has been done and they will be back in the spring to work on the outside. There is a need to do some masonry work on our main building and that will be a project for the spring. Keith Podoll has made some inquiries into the signs by the highway and it seems that we will be able to share them with Zion Lutheran Church in Leeds.

Board of Christian Education report was given by Charlotte Reddeman. Enrollment is 34 current Students: 4-school age; 6-4K; 13-preschool; 11-Twos with future enrollees of 5 new students next Spring/Summer and the waitlist for 2025/26 continues to grow. Upcoming center events are the Christmas Program, December 12 at 4:00pm, will be livestreamed to congregation members. The students made gifts for church shut-in members. There will be a Jesus B-day Party w/book exchange on December 20th. The Friendsgiving Feast (65 attendees) was held on November 27th and Beth Hutchinson was honored at her retirement from our CCC. Rate/Policy updates: weekly preschool rates will remain the same; school age rates will increase $15; a new annual activity fee of $100 per student and a 15 % discount is being offered to congregation families. A new licensing requirement is radon testing for the center and those details are being worked out. Sunday School is continuing to go well and the programs are being practiced. All youth from grades 5 thru 12 were invited to come and help decorate the church on Sunday, December 1st. Pizza and drinks were provided. The decorations look amazing.

Pastor's Report was given by Rev. David Juhl. Attendance during the month of November averaged 114 per weekend. He is seeing 9 homebound members. Madison North and South Circuit matters: Living Christ, Madison and St. Paul's, Madison are vacant. Good Shepherd by the Lake, Stoughton will be vacant at the end of this month as Pastor McVey is retiring. Looking ahead, Pastor and Becky were trained a few weeks ago to take over the South Wisconsin District PALS (Post-seminary Applied Learning and Support) group. They're in the process of scheduling a meeting in January. Advent Evening Prayer is Wednesday nights, December 11, and 18 at 6:30 PM.
Childcare Christmas Program is Thursday, December 12 at 4:00 PM. Younger Sunday School Children's Christmas Program is Sunday, December 22nd at 9:30 AM. Christmas Eve Older Sunday School Christmas Program is at 6:30 PM. Christmas Eve Candlelight Divine Service is at 10:00 PM. Christmas Day Divine Service is at 9:00 AM. New Year's Eve Divine Service is at 6:30 PM. There will be NO MONDAY NIGHT DIVINE SERVICE ON DECEMBER 30.

Vicar reported that he is at his 5 month evaluation time as that is due this week. He is half way through his bible study on Matthew as well as his vicarage with us. He preached in Cecil, WI as a substitute this past weekend as they are one of his seminary adoption congregations. He will be going home for Christmas break.

There were no membership changes.

Old business: The budget committee reported that numbers have been assembled and we could be looking at a 3% increase in projected expenses. The nominating committee is still looking for names to fill in the blanks.

New business consisted of setting the date for our annual Voters' meeting in January. Stephen Saager made the motion to set the date as January 26th at 1:00 p.m. Meg Hanson second, motion carried.

President Gramse asked that Pastor, Vicar, Cantor and Lynnette leave the room. Paul Yamriska made a motion to express Christmas thank yous, Stephen Saager second, motion carried.

Steve Paskey moved to adjourn, Meg Hanson second, motion carried at 7:21 pm.

The meeting was closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Respectfully submitted,
Lynnette Taylor, Council Secretary
